Maker's Asylum is a community makerspace focus on fostering innovation through hands on learning on a normal day, but currently we have been quarantined at our space since the 23rd of March to have access to the tools and equipment that we have so that we can proactively create impact during these testing times. We have designed face shields to be digitally fabricated via a laser cutter because it is better, faster and cheaper to do so. We have already given out 76000 of the M19 face shields via local hubs in 18 cities as on 11th April 2020.
